Mock Trial Team Goes To State Contest

Ohio Mock Trial is a statewide program which endeavors to teach high school students about the United States' judicial system. This is accomplished by allowing students to assume the roles of attorneys and witnesses, and then argue against other teams in an imaginary court case. This year Mt. Gilead defeated its first round opponent, Delaware Hayes, and therefore advanced to the state competition. Mt. Gilead's team traveled to Columbus and presented an excellent case, but lost to its first competitor at state level.

Lawyers Greta Loren and Colleen Copp prepare for competition.

The team discusses its previous trial performance.

The Mock Trial team members relax at a banquet held in honor of all the teams that made it to the state competition.

Mock Trial team members receive recognition at the high school academic banquet.

School Dramatically Increases Donations

Every year Mount Gilead High School competes with the other county schools in the Red Cross' high school blood drive. Through the efforts of members of FMA, who sponsor the Bloodmobile and their advisor Mrs. Virginia Meyer, 117 students and faculty signed up to donate blood. A total of 105 pints of blood were actually donated which was a big increase over the 69 pints donated last year. Because of everyone's hard work Mr. Miller and Mr. Beck gave each donor a candy bar.

Tony Nicholson gets his temperature and pulse taken by a nurse during a check of health histories.

Leana Scott, Roxie Monk, Kathy Fricke, and Debby Wiseman wait to register to give blood.

Colleen Copp cheerfully donates blood.

In Montreal the students enjoyed shopping in the underground malls and a tour of the city which included stops at the Olympic Park, Notre Dame Basilica, and Botanical Gardens. On Wednesday the group traveled to Quebec City where the students continued their sight-seeing, dining, and experiencing French Canadian culture firsthand. A tour of Quebec City included visits to the Cathedral of Saint Anne de Beaupre, the bake ovens, and woodcarver's shop. On Thursday evening because of the excellent food and view of the city, the group ate dinner at the L'Astral Restaurant on the 26th floor of the Loew Hotel. On Friday evening the group left Quebec for the return trip home.

The group takes break from shopping in Sillery Mall in Quebec.

"What do I do now!", is Kelly Plogher's comment when she is confronted by her lobster dinner.

While sight-seeing in Quebec, students visit Artists' Alley and talk to the artists and look over the paintings that are for sale.

Bronwyn Naysmith, Mark Peters, Randi McQuistion, Debbie George, and Kelly Plogher visit the Botanical Gardens in Montreal.

The 1985 Homecoming Week showed spirit and drive among the team, the cheerleaders and the student body. Spirit Week participants dressed in 50's garb, wore Hawaiian clothing, sweats, ties and "blue" to beat the Bulldogs. The annual parade was held on Monday rather than the traditional Thursday. A heavy rain did not dampen senior spirit as they rose to take first place in the float contest with the theme "Roast the Dogs". On Thursday a blazing bonfire did its part to get coaches, students and fans psyched for the contest with Crestline. In pregame activities, Kelli Ashbrook was crowned Homecoming Queen for 1985. Unfortunately, the Indians bowed to the Bulldogs, 14 - 8. On Saturday a Homecoming Dance was sponsored by DECA with D.J. Tom Danner, Inc. providing the sound.

1986 School Musical Is Charlie Brown

During the play, the audience views the way Charlie and his friends interact to little events such as Snoopy's joy of a full supper dish, Charlie's sadness of not receiving a Valentine, and to the gangs forming a baseball team. The play was presented in the Junior High auditorium on April 18, 19, and 20.

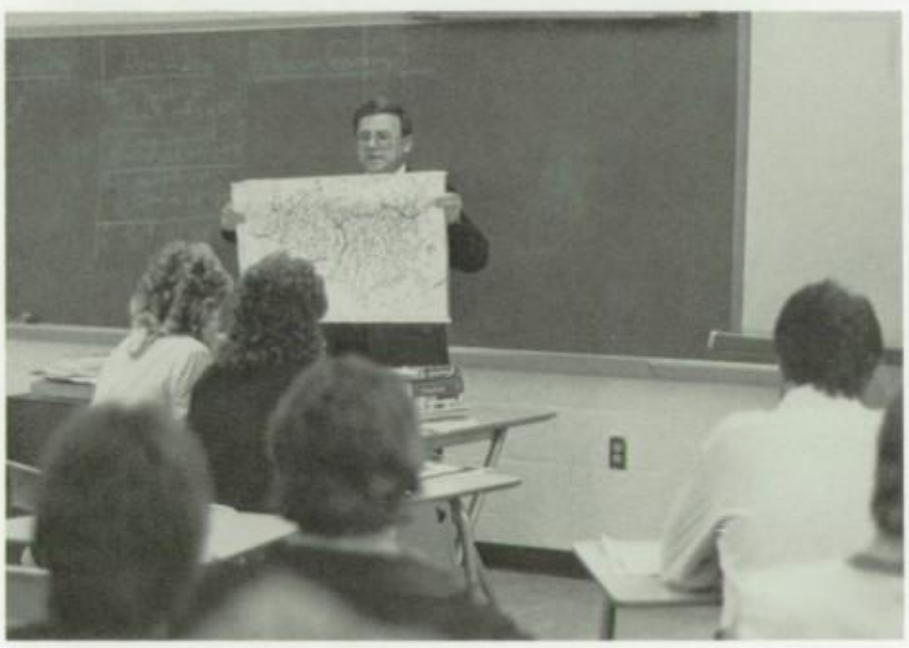
Science Day Features Numerous Fields

As a sequel to last year's successful Literary Day, it was decided to hold a Science Day. On Monday, May 5th, the usual class schedules were dispensed with and students had an opportunity to attend 6 special presentations in various scientific fields. All students attended a session on the life of Albert Einstein who was portrayed by Mr. Ed Metzger. Activities which students could participate in during the day were COSI's Stardome - a portable planetarium, a tour of Mr. Brucker's solar home, the Ohio Department of Natural Resources' Hunter Safety Program, and the "Pinewood Derby." Students could also attend classes and demonstrations on Sports' Medicine, Weather Forecasting, Oceanography Nuclear Power, Chemistry, Genealogy, and NASA's Space Program.

Mr. Ed Metzger gives his portrayal of the early life of Albert Einstein.

Students wait to enter COSI's Stardome.

Mr. Pendleton and Bob Nelson watch a race between cars built by Scott Curts and Shawn Hankins in the Pinewood Derby.



Mr. Dave Banyas, of the Mansfield weather office, explains to how meteorological maps are used to predict the weather.

Under the direction of Morrow County Game protector Steve Dillon, students fire at targets on the Wildlife Target range.

The final activity of the year was to hold a get-together to see slides and pictures of the Canada trip.

Indians Are State Class "A" Champions

The 1985 Mount Gilead Varsity Golf team had a fantastic season. In 12 dual matches the team won 10 and lost by 1 stroke to both Lexington and Findlay. The team placed first in the Northridge Invitational and the Mount Gilead Invitational by defeating 7 and 5 teams respectively. At the Colonial Invitational the Indian placed 10th out of 25 teams, and at the Princeton Invitational were 5th out of 29 teams. With the season winding down and tournament play beginning, the Indians had hopes of making the State Finals. The first step was to win the MOC. The MOC championship was in three rounds - 9 holes at Mount Gilead Golf Course, 9 holes at Tablerock Golf Course, and a final 18 hole match at Valley View Golf Course. Mount Gilead won all three rounds with a combined team score of 325, five strokes ahead of second place Fisher Catholic. Out of a field of 8 teams, Mount Gilead finished runner-up to Zanesville Rosecrans with a team score of 331 in the Regionals. Since two teams were to represent Region II, the Indians were in the State Tournament. The goal of Coach Furniss and the team was to shoot a team score of 640 for the 36 holes, but when the scores were added up on the leader board at the end of the tournament, Mount Gilead had carded a record-setting 617. The Indians were State Class A Golf Champions for 1985.

Dave Gattshall, Mark Bartley, Ted Furniss, Jeff Roush, Troy Rhodebeck, and Mark White pose with the winner's trophy at the Mount Gilead Invitational. At the end of the season several Indian players received special team recognition. Dave Gattshall had the best driving record and was the most improved player.
